HERMIS MAKES TRACK RECORD

WITH 134 POUNDS RUNS A MILE AND AN EIGHTH IN 1:52 2-5.

Mollie Brant Wins Hunter Handicap From Stolen Moments-Frank Farrell's ek a Good Thing - Three Favorites in Front at Morris Park.

Hermis won a race at Morris Park yesterday that convinced turfmen that the $60,000 horse gradually reaching true championship m and that before long he may be able to win back the laurels lost when he lowered his colors to the Westerner, McChesney, in the Twin City Handicap at Sheepshead Bay. Hermis started in the last event on the card, a handicap for three-year-oldds and upward at a mile and a furlong over the Withers course. He took up 134 pounds, eight pounds more than scale weight, and gave eleven to Shorthose, eighteen to River Pirate, thirty-four to Brigand and forty to Colonsay, all three-year-olds. He opened favorite at even money, but receded to 11 to 10.
Fuller took Hermis to the front, obeying the instructions of Owners E. R. Thomas and Alexander Shields, and proceeded up the backatretch under wraps, with Colonsay a length back, followed by River Pirate and Brigand, with Shorthose half a dozen lengths out of it. Colonsay hung on gamely. There was just a moment when it looked as if Hermis night he beaten and that was at the last furlong pole, but when Fuller let Mr. Thomas's orse down he drew away and held the race safe, winning easily by a length and a half in 1:52 2-5, a new record for the track, the previous figures being 1:53%, made by Box with 126 pounds in 1899. River Pirate was a length and a half before Colonsay, who beat Brigand a length. Shorthose was half length away.

The Hunter Handicap, for three-year-old fillies at a mile, was the leading stake feature and an excellent field went to the post. Foxhall Keene's Stolen Moments was the choice at 3 to 2, John Sanford's Mollie Brant oing up to 7 to 2, second choice, and W. C. Whitney's Girdle being lowered to sixes. dies rushed off in front, setting a fast pace to the turn, where she began to stop. had been running second with Mollie Brant, meanwhile, and when the run home began Mr. Sanford's filly took the lead and won in handy style by three parts of a length. Keene filly was two lengths in front of Ada Nay, who beat Stamping Ground a head, with Girdle three parts of a lengthaway. The mile was run in 1:39 2-5, the haif in 0:49 and five-eighths in 1:01 3-5.

The Corinthian open steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, was a farce. Only three horses started and H. S. Page's Self Protection, the favorite, ridden by his owner, galoped in front all the way, having three lengths at the end. He was inclined to bolt at each obstacle and took the jumps in a way that reminded football enthusiasts of a half back dodging a tackle in an open field.
Frank Farrell's Monadnock, recently purhased at the Fleischman sale, was a real chased at the Fleischman sale, was a real good thing in the third race, for maiden two-year-olds run over the Eclipse course Mr. Farrell had a heavy commission down at 3 to 1, while Tammany, as usual, followed suit. August Belmont's Orthodox was the choice at twos, with desultory betting on Fort Plais, Patagonian, Riverdale and Pompano. There were conflicting reports about the start. Mr. Fitzgerald declared that the field got away in perfect unison, while Fuller stated that Monadnock was not only practically left, but also bolted to the outer rail. At the Witchers crossing Monadnock, Orthodox and Riverdale were running abreast, with the latter in the middle. As they neared the wire, Riverdale was pinched off, Hicks taking him back and around on the inside. Fuller put up a terrific driving finish on the Farrell colt, who won by a nose, with Orthodox two lengths before Riverdale. The time was 1:11 3-5.

Apprentices had the mounts in the first race, at seven furlongs, and the wise men stayed off. Crosthwait got the favorite, Monograph, out of a bad pocket in the stretch and drove him home to victory by a short head over Ringdove, who was coming so fast that in another stride he would have taken the purse. Frank Farrell's Duelist was a length away, well backed but in receipt of a weak ride from little Holmes The time was 1:27 1-5.

I. V. Bell's St. Jude, 10 to 1, unbacked by his owner, won the fifth race, at a mile. He galloped home with two lengths over Bolima, 5 to 1, who was a half a length before Guy Park, 20 to 1. Three favorites and two second choices made the day a source of fair profit to the talent. Fuller rode two winners. weather was perfect, the track lightning and the attendance easily 18,000.

The prosperity of racing was manifested yesterday by the announcement that both the Brooklyn and Coney Island Jockey clubs have decided to increase the value of several big stakes next year. The Brooklyn Jockey Club, through its secretary, announced that the Brooklyn Handicap would be a $20,000 guaranteed stake instead of a $10,000 added ioney event. Secretary Fellowes of the Coney Island Jockey Club also stated that the Suburban Handicap would be a guaranteed $20,000 stake instead of $10,000 added, also that the June handicaps would be increased in value to $7,500 added money instead of $4,500, and that each part of the Double Event would be $10,000 guaranteed instead of $5,000; all stakes for three-yearolds and upward at a mile or over to be in reased from $1,500 or $2,000 to $3,000 added, and all two-year-old stakes to be increased from $1,500 to $2,600 added. Mollenhauer Defeats Champion Anderson in Kings County Tournament.

Play in the Kings County Club lawn tennis tournament was continued yesterday at Kingston and St. Mark's avenues. The scratch men's singles was the feature. Henry Mollenhauer continued his fast work by defeat-ing the club champion, F. G. Anderson, three to one. This win brings Mollenhauer to the semi-final round. Mollenhauer was very strong at the net and used the Sanford stroke with effect. Anderson contested the points vigorously, except in the second set, which he lost at love. The defeat of the champion puts him out of the race for the prize, as the round robin feature of the event is limited to the four in the semi-finals. lenhauer, Dr. Frazer, Westfall and J. W. SCARCITY OF FRESHMAN MATE-RIAL OF 'VARSITY CALIBRE.

Belative Value of Back Field as Compared to Line Increased by New Rules-Long Distance Kicking-Harvard's Chief Concern-Practice of the Elevens.

Freshman football material of 'varsity calibre is conspicuous this fall by its scarcity.
At Harvard, Yale and Princeton, hardly a freshman has come out so far who is likely to make the 'varsity team. Mike Murphy, the Yale trainer, says scholarship requirements are hurting the game. Anyway, Yale sees nothing among the newcomers of future aid to the present 'varsity eleven. The contrast is all the more noticeable, as four freshmen who were stars of first magnitude-Shevin, Rockwell, Kinney, Bowman-made the varsity team last year. It has been known to happen that when a team was successful he year before promising school material the year before promising school material would be diverted elsewhere under the impression that there would be more chance for it where material was more needed, forgetful that there is always demand for material anywhere. Cornell is said to have a good freshman guard in Wilder, Columbia has a good man in J. Sharp, Princeton a good freshman tackle in Cooney and Harvard a likely back in Hanley, but to date on lead-ing teams hereabouts freshmen who are rated as probable 'varsity timber can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Brill, last year's crack Exeter tackle, will not be eligible at Harvard, it is reported, because he is to take a special course. However, over a hundred candidates have reported for Harvard's freshman team.

Many of the very best players have made varsity teams. Frank Hinkey did so; so did McCormick and Cadwallader, also of Yale; Dibblee and Cabot of Harvard, Davis, Hillebrand, Cochran and Trenchard of Princeton, Weekes of Columbia and others too nunerous to mention.

"If we have only taken a steppin the right direction, if we can only create the impression that the new rules will tend to improve the game, we will have done all that we hoped to do this year," said a member of the rules committee yesterday. "It was not expected that anything great would be accomplished at once, but that the changes would lead up to an improvement and that they would tend to put less premium on mere weight." The committeeman was asked if he does not think the relative value of the he does not think the relative value of the back field as compared to that of the line would be somewhat increased by the changes. He did think so, and pointed out that one way in which linemen will be less valuable was that between the 25 yard lines they cannot drop back and carry the ball. That in itself removes a little of their usefulness. Also, since the quarterback may run with the ball, a premium is put on a quick, fast man. Nevertheless, the team whose line is 15 per cent. stronger than that of the team whose back field is 25 per cent.

stronger than that of the team whose back field is 25 per cent. the stronger will win.

Harvard's chief concern is to develop a line that will be able to give her back field the proper support. A former Harvard player puts the situation as follows: "The back field at Cambridge is a very good one, indeed, good enough to win, we think, in itself, considered. This refers to the Yale game, to which everything else leads up at Harvard. But whether the line will be strong enough to make the back field's strength a winning factor is another question—the question. Yale's line is as big as all outdoors and composed of seasoned players, and unless our line is good enough to hold it off and give the backs a chance, the best back field we could find would not overcome the odds and win the game."

The way in which candidates of all weights and sizes are rallying to the support of the team at Pennsylvania is one indication of the spirit of determination to again rise to the ranks of the Big Four that has sprung up at that institution. No less than twenty-five new men responded to a call for candidates a camel has of passing through the weas a candidate for guard named McClellan, whose weight is given as 145 pounds. A guard of this size has about as much chance of making a big 'varsity team, as guard, as a camel has of passing through the eye of a needle; but it is a winning spirit that prompts such to respond to the call for volunteers. Probably the lightest guard on a big team was Olcott of the Yale 1902 eleven, who played weight, being little, if any, over 180 pounds.

The first hard practice at New York University occurred yesterday afternoon. After the usual preliminary work the 'varsity was lined up against the scrub for about lifteen minutes. Several men of last year's team appeared on the field for the first time this season. No very promising material from the freshman class has appeared. Sprague, a former Williams player, is putting up a fine game at quarter. Chamberlain, who played guard several years on the Hackettestown School team, was tried at that position and showed up in good shape. With Coe and Reilly back in the line the defensive work was exceptionally good. The 'varsity lined up as follows: Left end, Connell: left tackle, Reilly: left guard, Chamberlain, centre, Wolff: right guard, Coe; right tackle, Donovan; right end, Lowry; quarter, Sprague; left half, Capt. Tuthill; full back, Rogge; right half back, MacDowell and Graigin. The 'varsity backs tore through the scrub for substantial gains at each play. Craigin made the first touchdown of the season, scoring on an end run through a broken field.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 1.—The com-

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 1.—The comparative strength of the Wesleyan football team is still, after two weeks of practice, a debatable subject. Besides the men lost by graduation, Cobb has gone to Brown, Forbes and Hanlon are conditioned, McDonell is a professional and Long has blood poisoning. These losses cripple both the line and the back field. The outlook is lightened, though, by the probability of two or three of these men getting back into the game. The freshmen are turning up some good men. North is a particularly fine man and is being tried at all positions. He weighs over 200 pounds, and particularly fine man and is being tried at all positions. He weighs over 200 pounds, is very quick, and has plenty of pluck and endurance. Goodman, a former Williams man, is lighter, but plays fast. Taylor and Woodhead are promising well for the tackles or as halves. Whether these fill up the holes of the men who are gone is doubtful. Rogers, '66, is the only one at full, Eyster and Onthrup are fast as ever at, end and quarter. The line-up is changing every day, and no predictions for the Brown game next Saturday are possible.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 1.—An important acquisition to the Cornell football squad was made to-day when J. F. Schoellkopf, brother of Cornell's star full back, came out as a candidate for a line position. Young Schoelkopf is heavy and was worked at guard and tackle by the coaches in the practice. Another play was developed and added to the list, in which Voris the big left tackle received the ball. In ten minutes play the var-sity made two touchdowns but falled to kick either goal.

Coach Purcell is still working with the ends. Lawrence was displaced to-day by Lynch. Coach Purcell is still working with the ends.
Lawrence was displaced to-day by Lynch.
Sears, the sprinter, is improving under hard coaching and may be whipped into 'varsity material yet. McAllister and Costello were retired to the crippled list, but the coaches expect them to be in shape for the game with Rochester University on Saturday.

Rochester University on Saturday.

Coach Morley put the Columbia string through two performances yesterday. The morning practice was light and comprised putting the line through some sharp signal practice and running the ball up and down the field. Bruce, the bone and sinew of last year's line, encouraged the Blue and White supporters by appearing in togs for the morning practice. He is eligible to play and would be an invaluable acquisition to the Columbia line.

Two new pawns appeared on the chessboard yesterday afternoon. They were Lippe, who played full back on the alumni-team on Wednesday, and Metzenthen of last year's squad. Metzenthen was thought by some to be the fastest half back, after Harold Weekes, that was on the Columbia squad last season. Yesterday afternoon's work was of the lightest order. Morley ran the men up and down the field trying to develop quickness and certainty in handling the ball and in forming interference. There was no line-up. Morley tried out the ends, sending them down the field in twos and threes. Practice will be light this afternoon in view of the game with Union to-morrow.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 1.—For one hour and a half this afternoon the Yale coaches kept the football squad on the jump. Henry Holt, the star centre, came to-day and settled down to work at once with Roarback, Flanders and P. C. Smith. His coaching was directly noticeable in the work wiring the scrimmage, the centre of the line moving with much more freedom.

The freshman squad was to-day drawn on for material for the varsity squad. M. Smith, Costello and Broome were taken over. Broome made a purticularly good inpression. He comes from Nathan Hale School and plays a stiff game at half back, particularly in defensive work.

Smith was tried out at glard apposite Bloomer, and put up a plucky fight.

The college eleven failed to make any impression on the varsity line. Twice Metcalf got through the line with a clear field before him for a touchdown, but was called PRINCETOR, N. J., Oct. 1.—The second week of hard practice for the Tigers ends with the team work of the eleven improved by 50 per cent. The Swarthmore game showed that the line is going to be strong both in offensive and defensive playing. The men are a little weak yet in receiving punts and frequent funbling mars the practice games, but aside from this the team work is rarely erratic. The coaches are greatly pleased with the showing that the freshmen made yesterday. Cooney, who comes from Exeter, played a brilliant game at tackle, and his chances for making the varsity are very good. Nothing definite can be said yet as to who will be quarter back. Burks and Vetterline, the candidates for the place, were both tried in yesterday's game. The coaches are paying considerable attention to line plunges and a quick dash just outside of tackle for their gains, while end runs are being used but little. The Tigers play their next game here on Saturday with Georgetown.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 1.—Things looked on Saturday with Georgetown.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. P.—Things looked a bit off color with the Harvard-football squad on Soldiers' Field this afternoon until the 'varsity lined up against the second eleven. Bowditch was in the scrimmage for the first time this fall, and he put life and spirit into the 'varsity eleven. Schoenkop was out again after a few days rest, but he did not go into the line-up. Nichols, who has been at left half back, was started at punting to-day and for a beginner did fair work. Hanley, the freshman full back who was injured yesterday, was on the field, but did very little. Capt. Marshall is on the cripple list with a bad knee received in the Bowdoin game. Clothier was the only 'varsity player who was not out to-day. He has a bad arm received in an automobile accident. Harry Lemoyne, the swimmer and shot putter, joined the squad to-day. He came out for the freshman eleven, but was taken over to the 'varsity gridiron.

There was another fire scare in the stands to-day. A section of the stand took fire in some way, but was speedily put out with a bucket of water. Mills played full back on the 'varsity, and showed up better than before.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—Seldom has such a lively scrimmage taken place on Franklin Fleld thus early in the year as was the one to-day. The 'varsity carried the ball once for ninety yards and twice for sixty, without being held for downs, scoring two touchdowns and a goal from the field by Corson against the strong scrub and holding the latter team down to first down, the result of a cross tackle rush by Lampson: Later the scrub received the ball on the 'varsity's 5-yard line, but were only able to cross the goal line twice in fully fifteen minutes of play, one score being made by McClellan on a fumble and the other by Turnbull on a play through centre.

Drake was kept out of practice because of his bad shoulder. Reynolds and Hoffman each have twisted knees and only partook of light work. Kase and Davis received blows on the head during the strimmage, which forced them to leave the field with Metzger, who bruised his leg.

Landing, 83 miles: Oct. 1, Newburgh to New York, 60 miles.

There was no schedule of time for arrival at any place, no prizes or penalties at stake. The participants simply joined in a go-as-you please excursion, with a fixed distance for each day and a rendezvous for the night.

Twenty-one started on last Friday, but several started intending to go only part of the way and dropped out before reached Pittsfield on Tuesday night and twelve reached Newburgh Weduesday night. One, Emerson Brooks, left Newburgh and reached New York at 1:30 o'clock yesterday. The rest of the party dined with H. W. Whipple at Nyack and two, George F. Chamberlin and J. H. Carpenter, dropped out at their homes there. The other nine who returned to the clubhouse and registered in close order were: President A. R. Shattuck, James L. Breese, F. M. Lande and Dr. Morris, F. G. Webb and party, R. L. Morrell and Mr. Bates, H. W. Whipple, Elmer Apperson, Colgate Hoyt and C. H. Gillette. G. Webb and party, R. L. Morrell and Mr. Bates, H. W. Whipple, Elmer Apperson, Colgate Hoyt and C. H. Gillette.

All agreed that the trip had been thoroughly enjoyable and remarkably free from mishaps. The weather and roads were fine and the scenery superb. Every one was enthusiastic over the thorough success of what was undertaken with some misgivings that it might be too strenuous for both the men and the cars and result in disaster instead of pleasure.

RECORD AUTO TRIP.

Car Arrives Here After a Seventy-six Hour Journey From Chicago.

"A record that will not soon be beaten" nd "a wonderful performance that tells of tremendous progress in automobile making. were two comments generally indorsed by local automobilists regarding the exploit of driving a car from Chicago to New York in the total time of seventy-six hours, which was accomplished when Bert Holcomb and Harry Sandol reached this city in a twentyfour horse power gasolene car at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The total distance travelled by the car

as shown by the odometer it carried was as shown by the odometer it carried was 1,177 miles, which is forty miles more than was recorded by the same instrument when the car made the trip from here to Chicago before starting on its trip. The extra distance is accounted for by the fact that all the hard luck of the men and the car came in the last stage, when they got lost. Had it not been for this the record would have been eight or ten hours better.

The original schedule called for the arrival of the car late yesterday afternoon and even then it would have about cut all automobile records between New York and all intermediate cities in half.

Had it not been for getting lost Holcomb and Sandol would have arrived here by midnight on Wednesday, Holcomb says. Both men were exhausted when they got here, having had nothing to eat except one sandwich apiece since Wednesday morning.

The car was brought through by Bert Holcomb, Lawrence Duffy and D. T. Adams of Hartford, Harry Sandol of New York and H. S. Haroun of Chicago. They worked in relays, two men in the car. Holcomb and Haroun ran it from Chicago to Cleveland and made the distance in 23 hours and 40 minutes, the former record being 52 hours. This gives an idea of the remarkable record of the car. Duffy and Adams took charge at Cleveland and Holcomb proceeded by train. catching a nap en route, to Binghamton, where he met Sandol and with him completed the trip. All stops and delays included, their average speed was 15½ miles an hour.

Kent Cricketers Easily Defeat New York Eleven.

The Kent county cricket team added another victory to their record yesterday, for they defeated New York by 124 runs fter declaring their second innings closed with only 4 wickets down. The game was played on the grounds of the Livingston Field Club, at Staten Island.

When stumps were drawn on Wednesday evening, New York had scored 83 runs for he loss of 3 wickets against Kent's first nnings total of 202. The 7 wickets added innings total of 202. The 7 wickets added but 17 runs to the total, and the innings was over for an even 100.

Kent then went in for their second innings. A brilliant catch by H. F. Grahame disposed of Hutchings, while soon after W. Bunes neatly accepted a long drive of Seymour. With 2 wickets down for 4 runs, H. C. Stewart and Alec Hearne formed a partnership which added 69 runs to the total.

Stewart hit in splendid style, and put on 46 runs in fifty minutes. H. Z. Baker, who came fifth man, did not stay long before being clean bowled by Kelly, who also caught Stewart at point. The innings was then declared closed with the total at 76 for 4 wickets.

New York's second innings was all over in an hour for 54 runs. W. M. Bradley, who went in for a few overs at the end, showed what he could do by capturing 3 wickets for I run. J. Adam, who scored an aggregate of 44 runs during the match and F. F. Kelly, who obtained 5 wickets for 85 runs, will receive prizes from the president of the Metropolitan League for their good-work.

The Englishmen left after the match for Philadelphia, where they will begin the last game of their tour this morning.

GOLF.

Yestern and Eastern Players in Semi-Fina of Women's Championship.

CHICAGO, Oct 1 .- It will be the West agains the East in the semi-finals for the women's national golf championship at the Chicago Golf Club to-morrow as a result of the third match round to-day.

The pairings will bring Miss Bessie hony, the Western champion, against Miss Fanny C. Osgood of Boston, and Miss J. Anna Carpenter is drawn with Miss Katharine C. Harley of Fall River, Mass. It is hoped that the finals will narrow down to a contest between a Western and an Eastern player. The two contests to-morrow should decide the question of Eastern and Western supremacy in golf. Miss Osgood is without doubt the best golfer entered in the tourna-ment from the East, and Miss Bessie Anthony has demonstrated on numerous occasions that she is the best woman golfer in the West. Miss Carpenter and Miss Harley are evenly matched also, and the match should be de cidedly close.

In the third round to-day Miss Anthony had a hard match with Miss Frances C. Everett of the Exmoor Country Club, eventually winning by 4 up and 2 to play. Early it looked as if the result would be much closer, as Miss Anthony led by only a hole at the turn.

as Miss Anthony led by only a hole at the turn.

Miss J. Anna Carpenter defeated Miss Georgiana Bishop of the Brooklawn Country Club of Bridgeport, Conn., in the feature contest of the day. Miss Bishop was the only representative of the Woman's Metropolitan Golf Association entered in the championship. She only lost a grand contest by a hole. Miss Bishop held her opponent well after the first nine holes and reduced the lead of 3 up, which Miss Carpenter secured searly, to a hole at the turn.

Miss Katharine C. Harley had little difficulty in winning from Mrs. W. A. Alexander of Exmoor by 7 up and 6 to play, while Miss Osgood overwhelmingly defeated Mrs. G. L. Deering of Midlothian by 3 up and 7 to play. Mrs. Deering did not win a hole during the match and succeeded in halving only two. The results in the third round to-day follow:

Miss Fanny C. Osgood, Brookline Country Club, Boston, defeated Mrs. C. L. Deering, Midlothian Country Club, By up and 7 to play. Miss Bessle Anthony, Glenview, defeated Miss Frances C. The East Jersey Golf Association met at

The East Jersey Golf Association met at Newark last night and ratified the dates of Oct. 23 and 24 for the individual championship on a neutral course. It is possible that a "dark horse" may win the championship but judging from the form of the players during the season it is most likely that the winner will be Van Duhn, Sanford, Giffin, Hunter or Milligan. As Giffin has won the title twice before, but not last year, he is baturally regarded as the strongest candidate for the honor.

rally regarded as the strungest candidate to the honor.

As to the team championship, it looked a week ago as though Forest Hill would win the first place in the league, as they had won six matches and lost only one, but since then South Orange has beaten Forest Hill. The two clubs are now tied for first honors, each with two more matches to play. As matters stand, South Orange has somewhat the better chance of winning out, as they play one of their two matches at home, while Forest Hill plays abroad with Morristown and Elizabeth, teams that always put up a stiff argument on their own links.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 1.-That perfected pacing wonder, Dan Patch, made an attempt o lower his mark of 1:59 at the Oakley Park Grand Circuit meeting to-day, but the conlitions were strongly against him, and the pest he could do was to pace the mile in 2:01%. The track was slow from the morning rain and the wind was blowing hard when the trial was made. The Buckeye purse for 2:20 pacers was won by Pan Michael after King Direct had taken the first heat. Pan Michael won the last three heats under a drive. Another rattling contest was that between Fannie Dillard and Terrace Queen in the first heat of the 2:06 page. RAID COLUMBIA CONTRACT CO. Police Arrest Two Men on the Charge of Robbing Italians. James Charles Wilson of 338 West Fortieth street and Dominick Melillo or 334 West Twentieth street were held in $500 bail for examination on charges of larceny by Magistrate Pool in the Jofferson Market police court yesterday. They were arrested as the principals in the Columbia Contract Company of America, with an office in the St. James Building, Twenty-sixth street and Broadway, which represented itself to have $1,000,000 capital, and to be "incorporated in the District of Columbia by a special act of Congress, March 3, 1891, and approved by the President of the United States."

The company has advertised in the Italian newspapers for the last three weeks and a steady stream of immigrants has been coming to its office. Many of them returned and filled the air with complaints, and the superintendent of the building finally notified the tenants to vacate.

The advertisement, as officially trans-The advertisement, as officially trans-lated and offered in evidence in court read:

Educated persons are sought as managers in the Italian departments in all the cities in the United States. It is necessary to have good recommendations and $350 as deposit in any national bank. The «Columbia Contract Company, 1226 St. James building.

Policeman Evans of the Jefferson Market court squad and Lawyer John Palmieri called at the office yesterday afternoon and offered, they say, a bond for $350 to Wilson, but it was refused. Then they arrested Wilson, the alleged president of the company, at the same time Policeman Fay of the court squad arresting Melillo just outside the Italian Consulate, downtown. Melillo made an effort to escape on a Broadway car, but was caught.

Four Italians appeared as complainants.

Each said that he had given $25 to the company and got nothing in return.

Wilson gave this explanation of the con-cern's business:

"This in an enterprise to supply medical attention and medicines to families in consideration of 20 cents a week. We have 800 doctors in our employ. The $350 is a bond to be deposited in a bark as a guarantee of good faith. We advertised in Italian papers, as we wanted to start an Italian department. THE STATUE TO GOEBEL.

Brother of the Assassinated Kentneky Chieftain Here to Pass Upon It. Arthur Goebel, brother of the late William Goebel of Kentucky, has come to New York to inspect the model of the statue of his brother to be erected in the State Cemeters Frankfort Ky. The mo is being made by G. Moretti, will cost $15,000. That sum has been collected by public subcription.

The figure of Goebel is ten feet high. It

The head is erect in the heat of argument. The head is erect and the shoulders are proudly squared.

Adjutant-General David R. Murray and Mrs. Charles C. McChorl are the other members of the monument committee delegated to inspect the model. Mr. Moretti has worked with only a group of photographs to aid him in producing his work. There was a death mask made, but the committee did not wish this to be used.

The statue with its pedestal, when complete, will rise thirty-two feet from the base. The pedestal will be of granite and adorned with a female figure of Fame prostrated with grief. This also will be brought out in relief in bronze.

PUNCHED RECORDER LAZARUS. C. E. Pickett, Fusionist, Knocked Down the Democratic Court.

Politicians in Bayonne, N. J., yesterday discussed a lively setto which occurred at the City Hotel between Recorder Hyman Lazarus, who is an influential Democrat, and Charles E. Pickett, leader of the fusion party, who was a candidate for the nomination for Mayor on the Republican ticket. The row, it is said, was started by Lazarus, who applied a name to Pickett that prompted the latter to deliver a warm slap on the Recorder's cheek. The Recorder returned the blow, and Pickett landed a couple of swings which caused the Court to lose its dignity and balance. At this point friends pulled the belligerants apart. A little blood was spilled and a couple of hats broken.
